Greensboro is the largest city in the Piedmont Triad Region, and is known as the “Heart of Carolina.” Once home to textile, furniture, and tobacco fortunes, today the Triad is renowned for its healthcare, education, nanotech, and transportation industries. Often known as “Tournament Town,” Greensboro locals cheer for multiple sports teams year-round as Greensboro is the home of the Atlantic Coast Conference. We are well-positioned centrally in the Piedmont Triad to conveniently serve the entire state from the mountains to the sea.

Following the merger with the established and well-regarded firm Adams Kleemeier Hagan Hannah and Fouts in 2004, over 40 Nexsen Pruet attorneys and staff have proudly served the Greensboro community.
