

Retail

Professionals

Margaret Shea Burnham

Laurence A. Cobb

Todd R. Davidson

Julian "Jay" Hennig III

Seth L. Hudson

Kelly Jones

Mark Knight

Christopher Kouri

Marguerite S. Willis

Few industries can hold a candle to the competitive, fast-moving, and unpredictable nature of retail.

In an environment that changes as quickly as the economy – and in a sector that is becoming increasingly dominated by large corporations and a growing number of regulations – companies need legal counsel that is nimble, responsive, and well-versed in the complete spectrum of issues impacting the industry.

That's where Nexsen Pruet can help.

We bring a broad depth of experience and practical know-how to a wide range of matters, advising virtually every size and type of client that touches the retail sector – from big box stores to boutique outlets. And our team approach allows us to draw upon the legal resources of multiple practice areas to ensure that we deliver comprehensive, efficient, high-quality representation that reduces exposure to risks and drives results.

This cross-practice focus gives retail clients the benefit of value-added legal services in a number of areas, including:

Corporate Law. We handle the complete spectrum of issues, from routine contract review and incorporations to structuring and implementing acquisitions, divestitures, reorganizations, dissolutions, control contests, recapitalizations, and other highly complex business transactions.

Finance. We deliver counsel on corporate, commercial, and public finance transactions involving both debt and equity markets and are particularly well-versed in commercial lending.

Employment and Labor Law. We represent both union and non-union environments in practically every aspect of the employment relationship. That includes arbitrations and mediations; immigration; discrimination, retaliation, and harassment claims; benefits design and administration; and contracts and compensation.

Real Estate Law. Our seasoned real estate attorneys are experienced in a variety of real estate development matters, including land acquisition/disposition; permitting, land use, and zoning; HUD and state land sales registrations; real estate litigation; taxation; conservation easements; and leasing.

Regulatory. We advise clients in licensing, permitting, and compliance matters and in responding to enforcement actions brought by various agencies.

Alcohol: Beverages and Products. We help clients navigate the complex state and legal requirements governing alcoholic beverages and products in the retail sector.

Intellectual Property. We assist clients in securing and protecting their intellectual property assets, including trademarks, copyrights, and patents.

Litigation. Our goal is to help clients recognize and prevent problems before they result in a claim. When disputes arise, we work aggressively to secure favorable outcomes in state and federal courtrooms, before administration tribunals, or in arbitration.

Experience

Mackrell International
Earth Fare

Insights

09.18.2019

Caution: Ban Ahead - The Rise in Bans on Salary History Inquiries Requires Employer Diligence

08.29.2019

Outrageous Requirements for Foreign Workers Pushing Business Away

07.10.2019

Workplace Safety and Summer Heat

05.01.2019

Opinion Letters – Do's and Don'ts

08.17.2018

Practice tips for commercial real estate closings

01.26.2018

NC Legislative Update: January 26, 2018