Suite 200
Raleigh, North Carolina 27612

Raleigh, the capital city of North Carolina, has outpaced the nation in growth. A part of the renowned Research Triangle Region, the city has redefined the standard for thriving, popular cities. Attracted to the family-friendly museums and countless outdoor activities and as well as great businesses like Cisco, IBM, and Novartis, 35 new people become new residents each day. Many of these new locals are young people, and it's certainly no wonder why. Raleigh has been recognized as one of the Best Places to get Rich, Invent Something, or have a Business and Career.

Not surprisingly, it is also an excellent place to practice law. Nexsen Pruet's "youngest" office opened in 2008. It has quickly grown to 45 attorneys and staff who are always prepared to make an impact, like Member Ernest Pearson. Nationally ranked as one of the Best Lawyers for Economic Development Law and an active board member of North Carolina organizations, Pearson and Office Managing Partner, Keith Burns, are just two examples of our dedicated staff committed to helping the Raleigh community continue to flourish.
