Nexsen Pruet brings a new level of risk management to contract review with NPcontracts360.

The firm's dedicated team of attorneys and specially trained professionals apply legal project management techniques and leverage technology, including artificial intelligence, to create a review program tailored to your specific organizational goals and objectives.

The process begins with the client working with a Nexsen Pruet attorney to establish the minimum contract standards that will serve as the basis for future reviews. If there are already established standards then those can be applied with or without modification. These standards will then be used to verify compliance with the minimum contract standards. In some cases an artificial intelligence solution that enables a much quicker and thorough review can be used. Once the review is complete, the response can be returned to the client or directly to the other party.

Key benefits:

Use Nexsen Pruet's review standards or customized your own criteria.

Guaranteed turnaround times with initial reviews complete within 72 hours- and options to expedite. Flexible payment structures, including fixed fees.

Three points of review - sophisticated technology, specially trained professionals, and attorneys - to ensure efficiency and accuracy.

A 90 - day checkpoint to confirm processes and methodology are effective and efficient for clients.
